Paralyzed Veterans of America fights for continued access to life sustaining health care during the Coronavirus pandemic

Paralyzed Veterans of America Executive Director Carl Blake issued the following statement regarding the medical treatment of veterans with spinal cord injury (SCI) and diseases such as MS and ALS, and other people with disabilities during the coronavirus pandemic.

“During this unprecedented pandemic, it’s important to remember everybody deserves quality health care. As such, we are coordinating closely with the Department of Veterans Affairs to ensure that the SCI system of care remains strong and fully accessible to paralyzed veterans. PVA is coordinating with the VA and Capitol Hill to address the needs of veterans who receive crucial, life-sustaining daily care in their homes. PVA is working diligently to ensure that the broader community response to the coronavirus addresses the needs of people with disabilities, particularly as major support systems are impacted and vital supplies become more difficult to obtain.”

“As the pandemic moves forward, medical professionals must not stereotype someone’s quality of life when assessing medical priorities. We have yet to see this occur in the United States, but as the number of coronavirus patients increases, PVA stands ready to continue our commitment to fight for quality health care for catastrophically disabled veterans and all people with disabilities.”

Paralyzed Veterans of America, Buckeye Chapter
Hey Buckeye Chapter members and friends. In this time when everything is getting cancelled, I want you to remember that communication is not cancelled, sunshine is not shelter in place and humor is not postponed. If you look passed the few negative ads, you can see how people are stepping up to help you smile.

Try this. Substitute toilet paper for a word in a movie. 101 Toilet Papers or Beauty and the Toilet Paper! Folks and restaurants are stepping up to help neighbors. So stay up beat folks, keep race ready, flowers are blooming, grass is getting green, and this quarantine will be lifted! Keep smiling!

Here’s a joke: What do Alexander the Great, Attila the Hun and Ivan the terrible have in common?

Answer: The same middle name! LOL!

Do we have any more jokes?

While you have time to think, I want to remind all that besides the Presidential election, Buckeye Chapter has an election coming up in September. For those of you that say you don’t have time, it’s a two year commitment and you only need to attend one meeting a month. You can do most meetings by phone. Any extra time is because you want to, not that you have to. You can learn so much in a short period of time about how PVA works and help our friends and members. If you worry that you don’t have the credentials, we will teach you and mentor anyone that wants to learn. You were all in the military and held different positions. This is a great time to demonstrate your leadership and feel great that you are helping a fellow veteran. I encourage all to get involved.

If you wonder why Buckeye Chapter does or doesn’t do something, we would love to hear your feedback. Have you checked our Facebook page and our website? What do you like or not like? See what we are doing and let us know if you have problems.

During this time, be careful, stay safe, healthy and positive.

In the March issue of PN magazine, Tom Fjerstad writes about Speedy, PVA’s retired logo, “What I think all our members are - First he’s happy, not sitting around feeling sorry for himself, 2nd he’s got places to go, you better get out of his way or he’ll run you over, and 3rd most important - you can’t help but admire his spunk, full of energy, drive and guts all qualities our members have.”

As always your concerns, issues, or ideas of how we may make our chapter better are always welcome. Contact the chapter office or email me at: hollyk@buckeyepva.org.

Park Synagogue Donates $60,000 to Combat Covid-19 Crisis

Park Synagogue in Cleveland Hts. and Pepper Pike, Ohio held a virtual event, "The Park Telethon: 10 Hours of Making a Difference" on Sunday, April 19 to support health care workers and provide food staples for people in need during the COVID-19 crisis.

Park’s Senior Rabbi Joshua Skoff said, “We had announced beforehand the funds raised from the Telethon would be multi-purpose. One part would go towards PPE and provide protection for those who are protecting our most vulnerable. The second part would be helping the Foodbank and others who can no longer rely on typical donations to provide food for those who are in need.”

Park congregants and guests presented on different topics throughout the day virtually on Zoom. Topics ranged from sharing updates about the present and future of COVID-19 to exercise classes, cooking demonstrations and magic, as well as the importance of wearing masks and helping parents deal with the anxieties their children may be facing. In total, Park raised $60,000 from 346 donors.

With many local non-profits spending exorbitant amounts for unexpected costs, Park decided to distribute the donations to several local organizations:
- Greater Cleveland Foodbank
- Koinonia Homes, Inc.
- Menorah Park
- Montefiore
- Paralyzed Veterans of America, Buckeye Chapter

Park’s President Susan Ratner said, “We are all in this together, and we wanted to do something to give back to our community during this challenging time. It is our hope that these gifts will make a difference in helping take care of our most vulnerable community members.”

BPVA received $5000 from Park Synagogue in Cleveland. The money from this donation was used to offer $75 gift cards for Amazon or Walmart. Members can use these gift cards for online ordering for delivery or pickup so they can stay home and stay safe.

RH Insurance
During the Korean War, Congress passed the Insurance Act of 1951 (P.L. 82-23) and established the Service-Disabled Veterans Insurance (S-DVI) program, which is administered entirely by the VA. S-DVI was created to meet the insurance needs of certain veterans with service-connected disabilities, many of whom would not be eligible for private life insurance due to their service connected disabilities. S-DVI is available as a permanent plan or as a five-year term policy for disabled veterans, and policyholders can apply for up to $10,000 in coverage. Policies for this insurance are issued with the letters “RH” in front of the policy number. RH insurance is considered nonparticipating, which means that no dividends are paid to policyholders. S-DVI is still being issued to new policyholders, and it is currently the only issue of direct VA life insurance for veterans that is open to new policyholders.

To be eligible for S-DVI, a veteran must have:
- Been released from military service for reasons other than dishonorable discharge or bad conduct discharge awarded at General Court-Martial;
- Been released from active duty on or after April 25, 1951;
- Been rated for a service-connected disability or disabilities (even if only 0%), but is otherwise in good health; and
- Applied within two years of receiving a rating for a new service-connected disability.

Supplemental RH Insurance
The Veterans’ Benefits Act of 1992 (P.L. 102-568) made supplemental coverage accessible to SDVI policyholders. Veterans who are totally disabled may apply for a waiver of premiums and additional supplemental coverage of up to $30,000. However, premiums cannot be waived on the additional supplemental coverage. To be eligible for Supplemental RH, policyholders must meet the following eligibility requirements:
- They are eligible for a waiver of premiums on their basic S-DVI policy due to total disability;
- They apply for this coverage within one year from notice of the grant of the waiver; and
- They are under age 65.

Gratuitous S-DVI
In 1959, Congress passed legislation to protect veterans who became incompetent due to a service-connected disability while eligible to apply for S-DVI, but who died before filing an application. This program is known as Gratuitous S-DVI (or ARH). VA must receive an application for payment of Gratuitous S-DVI within two years from the date of the veteran’s death.

Payment of Gratuitous S-DVI is made to the following beneficiaries in the order named:

1) To the widow or widower of the insured, if living. If not,
2) To the child or children of the insured, if living, in equal shares. If not,
3) To the parent or parents of the insured, if living, in equal shares.

To apply for RH insurance, you must complete a VA Form 29-4364. To apply for Supplemental RH insurance, providing you are eligible, you must complete VA Form 29-0188.

Terrified and Trapped: Paralyzed Veterans Struggle During Pandemic

Army veteran Stan Brown, a quadriplegic, relies on seven caregivers for nearly everything, from eating and dressing to running errands. It’s been several weeks since his caregiver tested positive, and Brown hasn’t shown any symptoms. However, he’s still anxious, and he plans to remain inside despite Missouri, his home state, beginning its reopening plan last week. It will be a long time before Brown feels safe, he said.

“I won’t feel back to normal again until we have a vaccine, even if it levels off,” Brown said. “I’m not going to feel safe getting out until that happens.”

As the coronavirus pandemic continues to be a deadly force in the United States, paralyzed veterans are struggling to meet their basic needs, such as buying groceries, according to Paralyzed Veterans of America, which aids and advocates for veterans with spinal cord injuries. The organization is also concerned about the mental health of its members, some of whom already suffer from anxiety, depression and post-traumatic stress disorder.

And for people with paralysis, the coronavirus poses an especially dire risk. The virus attacks the lungs, leading to breathing problems. Some people with paralysis have respiratory insufficiency, according to the Christopher & Dana Reeve Foundation. Because they may not have use of their abdominal or intercostal muscles, which form the wall of the chest, they lose the ability to force a cough, making them susceptible to respiratory infections.

The Department of Veterans Affairs operates 25 Spinal Cord Injuries and Disorders Centers across the country and maintains a registry of 24,531 paralyzed veterans. As of this week, 96 paralyzed veterans had tested positive for the coronavirus, said VA Press Secretary Christina Noel. Of those, 15 veterans – or 16% – have died.

The fatality rate across the U.S. population has been difficult for experts to estimate because of a lack of testing. Early figures have shown that about 5% of Americans who were confirmed to be infected with the virus have died. According to VA data, 985 of its nearly 12,000 coronavirus patients – or more than 8% – have died.

In comparison, the virus is “kind of a death sentence” for paralyzed veterans, said Tom Wheaton, a paralyzed Navy veteran and the national treasurer of Paralyzed Veterans of America.

Wheaton, 53, has been quarantining with his family at their home in Golden, Colo., for over two months. As a leader of PVA, Wheaton has spent his days checking on members over the phone and on his iPad. He’s worried about their mental health, he said.

“We’re terrified and trapped – a lot more trapped than the general American,” he said. “It’s completely grounded us.”

Wheaton’s wife, Angela, serves as his caregiver, and he’s in constant interaction with their two teenage children. However, a lot of PVA members, like Brown, live alone and rely on hired caregivers to come into their homes – a concept that now creates anxiety and fears of getting sick, Wheaton said.

Members have been calling to do “buddy checks” and encourage each other. Wheaton described the calls as a lifeline during this stressful time.

“The anxiety, depression – we want to make sure those aren’t prevalent with our members,” Wheaton said. “We don’t want them to come close to thoughts of suicide, which is a risk for us, anyway. This last month is not making it easier.”

Besides their members’ mental health, PVA is worried about paralyzed veterans being able to meet their basic needs, like having enough food. Sharon Moster, executive director of Ohio’s PVA chapter, has noticed a dramatic rise in the amount of help members need to get groceries.

Moster’s chapter serves about 500 paralyzed veterans, about half of which live at or below the poverty line. Because of a rise in grocery prices, their monthly disability checks aren’t going as far. Moster now receives several calls each week from veterans who need emergency assistance.

A few weeks ago, the Ohio chapter decided to preemptively help veterans. They allotted $35,000 to send Walmart or Amazon gift cards, each loaded with $75, to any of its members who requested help. About 360 of its 500 members asked for the cards. Rather than risking exposure, the chapter encouraged veterans to order groceries online and have them delivered or ask someone they know to pick them up.

Since they distributed the gift cards, Moster has received more calls from members, requesting the chapter send them again. Moster now carries a stack of gift cards with her so she can mail them out whenever she gets a request.

PVA operates 33 chapters nationwide and in Puerto Rico that are tasked with helping paralyzed veterans in their areas. The organization recently launched a public service announcement to educate people about the unique challenges facing paralyzed veterans during the pandemic and to raise funds to provide veterans with food and supplies. The group is encouraging people to donate at HelpPVA.org.

For now, Stan Brown isn’t having trouble with getting food and other basic supplies. He still has his team of caregivers, but he’s worried about what would happen if one of them exposes him to the virus. He’s concerned about the possibility he could be bound to his bed.

“If one goes down, there’s a good chance I may have gotten it and given it to the next person. It’s a domino effect,” Brown said. “If I had it, I wouldn’t want other people to have to work around me.”

All of his caregivers work for him part-time, and a few of them – including the one who contracted the virus – spend their other working hours at nearby nursing homes. Nursing homes and other long-term care facilities have been the sites of major coronavirus outbreaks. According to The New York Times, residents and employees of those facilities account for more than one-third of coronavirus deaths, despite accounting for only 0.5% of the population.

The thought is a constant fear to Brown.

“I’m still anxious,” he said. “I haven’t figured out a plan if things go south. I don’t know what I’m going to do.”

VA cancels National Veterans Wheelchair Games amid COVID-19 Pandemic

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) announced, April 1st, the National Veterans Wheelchair Games, scheduled to occur July 3-8 in Portland, Oregon has been canceled amid concerns surrounding COVID-19.

The VA made this decision out of an abundance of caution for the health, safety and well-being of vulnerable populations like older Veterans and those with underlying medical conditions, as identified by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

The VA and Paralyzed Veterans of America (PVA), co-presenter for the National Veterans Wheelchair Games, look forward to serving participants at the 2021 games in New York.

Plans are in place to bring the event back to Portland at a future date.

Paralyzed Veterans of America Vehicle Donation Program

Paralyzed Veterans of America has been on a mission to change lives and build brighter futures for our seriously injured heroes—to empower these brave men and women with what they need to achieve the things they fought for: freedom and independence.

They returned to a grateful nation, but also to a world with few solutions to the challenges they faced. They made a decision not just to live, but to live with dignity as contributors to society. They created Paralyzed Veterans of America, an organization dedicated to veterans service, medical research and civil rights for people with disabilities.

As we all seek relief from the negative impacts of COVID-19, consider the positive impact you can make by simply donating a used car, truck, or boat you no longer need! Paralyzed Veterans of America accepts support however we can, and vehicle donations have the potential to bring hundreds and sometimes even thousands of dollars in support of our programs and services.

Donating is easy, the pick-up is free, and your generous gift is tax-deductible. Call 877-900-VETS (877-900-VETS) seven days a week to speak to the Vehicle Donor Support Team.

2020 POLICY PRIORITIES

Veterans must have access to high quality, comprehensive, and veteran-centric health care as well as timely and accurate delivery of all earned benefits.

Strengthen and Improve the VA Health Care System and Services

A. Protect Access to VA’s Specialized Services
Congress must protect access to specialized services within VA, including the spinal cord injury/disorder (SCI/D) system of care, to ensure that it remains strong and effective. Congress must also ensure that VA’s health care system is able to effectively meet its staffing requirements.

B. Improve Access to VA’s Long-Term Services
Congress must provide oversight of VA’s expansion of its Program of Comprehensive Assistance for Family Caregivers (PCAFC) to ensure it is executed in a fair and timely manner and expand eligibility for the PCAFC to include veterans with serious illnesses like ALS and MS. Congress must also maintain a safe margin of community living center capacity for veterans with SCI/D.

C. Access to IVF
Congress must make in-vitro fertilization (IVF) a permanent part of VA’s medical care package.

D. Care for Women Veterans with SCI/D
Congress must ensure VA is able to meet the needs of women veterans with catastrophic disabilities, including their needs in decisions involving delivery of gender-specific health care.

Strengthen VA Benefits for Catastrophically Disabled Veterans and their Surviving Spouses

A. Improvement to Veterans Benefits
- Increasing the Automobile Allowance Grant and ensuring that veterans receive appropriate Automotive Adaptive Equipment reimbursement;
- Addressing the transportation needs of non-service-connected veterans to help restore, promote, and preserve the highest state of health possible; and
- Prioritizing claims for Specially Adapted Housing grant for veterans with ALS and increasing the amount and usability for all catastrophically disabled veterans.

B. Benefits for Surviving Spouses
Congress must ensure survivors of veterans who die from ALS receive the full benefits they are due.

Veterans with disabilities must have access to the opportunities and freedoms to allow them to live, work, travel, and fully participate in society.

Strengthen and Protect the Systems and Civil Rights that Support People with Disabilities

A. Improve Access to Air Travel for Passengers with Disabilities
Congress must improve access to air travel by requiring airlines to ensure that airplanes meet broad accessibility standards and strengthening Air Carrier Access Act enforcement through referral of certain complaints to the U.S. Attorney General and a private right of action.

B. Protect and Increase Compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)
Congress must continue to protect the rights of people with disabilities to seek immediate redress of discriminatory barriers in public accommodations under the ADA and increase and expand the tax incentives available to assist businesses with ADA compliance.

C. Preserve and Strengthen Financial and Health Security for People with Disabilities
Congress must strengthen and enhance the Social Security system and protect Medicare, while rejecting efforts to undermine these earned benefits programs that represent an economic safety net for millions of Americans.

D. Disaster Response and Recovery that Meets the Needs of People with Disabilities
Congress must address current gaps in the ability of the emergency response and recovery system to address the needs of people with disabilities and ensure disability inclusive disaster management policies and practices.
